

HASANZ Register – Conditions of Use

Last updated: 19 September 2026

Use of Register information

Information published on the HASANZ Register is made publicly available for this purpose. This includes names, contact details, business information and professional information.

Information from the HASANZ Register must not be used to:

- obtain, verify or supplement email addresses, telephone numbers or other contact details for unsolicited marketing, advertising, promotional communications, sales activity or other commercial solicitation;
- create, compile or supplement mailing lists, marketing databases or contact lists for these purposes;
- send unsolicited commercial or promotional communications; or
- carry out data mining, data extraction, data harvesting, scraping or other bulk collection of Register information.

These restrictions apply whether information is collected manually, electronically, by automated means, or in combination with information obtained from another source.

Permitted use

You may use the HASANZ Register to identify and contact a registered professional for the purpose of enquiring about or engaging their professional health and safety services.

Acceptance of these conditions

By accessing, searching or otherwise using the HASANZ Register, you agree to comply with these Conditions of Use.

HASANZ reserves the right to take reasonable steps to protect the Register, its registered professionals and Register information where these Conditions of Use are not complied with.

11. Contact us

If you have questions about these Website Terms of Use, please contact:

Health and Safety Association of New Zealand (HASANZ)

Email: register@hasanz.org.nz